

For Immediate Release

Date: September 25, 2008
Contact: Peter F. Smith

AmericaTheBeautiful.com is seeking video support for “I believe in America” project.

AmericaTheBeautiful.com is seeking support to inspire and encourage America’s future with a video project entitled “I believe in America”.

Peter Smith says his mission with this video project is to continue to inspire the Patriotic Hearts of All Americans with a video featuring the people who live, work and play in this great land, and to remind Americans how lucky we are to live in a land where Freedom is provided First, Foremost and Forever. “Granted, we are all troubled by the current state of the economy and the global unrest that exists” states Peter Smith “but I believe if we come together as a nation and show our support for the founding principles of this country – we can keep moving forward in a positive light.”

AmericaTheBeautiful.com is seeking the support of film crews across all 50 states to document America’s people amidst our identifiable landscapes. The clips wanted include static and slow panning cuts of America’s citizens (men, women, and children of all races and nationalities) saying “I believe in America” and “I believe”. All video must be shot in High Definition at 720p (minimum) and submitted with talent releases. For technical specifications on the needed footage, please email video@americathebeautiful.com or feel free to call our offices and speak to Rob Cassidy. Footage needs to be received by October 31, 2008.

The resulting video project will be distributed worldwide and available for download at no cost to those seeking inspirational hope for America’s future. Peter Smith is currently working on the score for this video and hopes that our country’s film community will come together to support the efforts of this endeavor.

This is good for America!

In exchange for these short video clips, AmericaTheBeautiful.com will provide credit to the videographers whose footage is included in the completed video project as well as full contact details & photos for the videographers on the AmericaTheBeautiful.com’s website.

Additional information can be obtained by contacting the Studio M offices at 828-454-9233.

Feel free to email Peter Smith, President at peter@americathebeautiful.com.

Studio M and AmericaTheBeautiful.com are located at 190 Industrial Park Drive, Waynesville, NC 28786